

Print Your Own Sheets & Giggles Game™

So you're a little try-curious? Well, slip under the sheet with us for an experience that will have you craving more.

Below are two options to print your own sample of the game to play with.

Option 1: Make it Last

- 1) Download this PDF and take it to a print shop.
- 2) Print out the cards on heavy card stock (80 lbs or higher). Use color.
- 3) Print out the Instructions on card-stock. Fold in half.
- 4) Cut the cards using a large paper cutter.
- 5) Put your deck in a box.

Option 2: Make it Cheap

- 1) Download this PDF.
- 2) Print this PDF on a printer of your choice. (We recommend using your work printer for the cheapest, riskiest option).
- 3) Use scissors or something sharp to cut out the cards.
- 4) Don't worry about printing the instructions - Go to our website instead.
- 5) Throw them away when done or put rubber bands around them until the cards are no longer usable.
- 6) Rinse and repeat.

We assume you are old enough to own a sheet, so go pick the one without stains and get ready to sheet yourself.

Doing It: How to Play

Each Sheet Head gets a 60-second turn to try to get their team to guess as many cards as possible using the rule for that round. Once a card is drawn, it must either be guessed correctly or returned to the pile when time expires. Teams take turns guessing cards – every member of a team should take their turn as Sheet Head before any teammate repeats.

Each of the 4 rounds end after all cards are guessed correctly. To start the next round, reshuffle all the cards and continue in the order you left off.

 HINT: If your memory sucks, read the cards aloud after the first round.

The Climax: How to Win

The team with the most correctly guessed cards after all 4 rounds wins. We don't care how you keep score, but tally scoring or collecting correctly guessed cards does the job.

Spice it Up

Use one or more of these rules to get experimental.

- Quickie: To reach The Climax faster, skip Round 4 (great for all you exhibitionists wanting to Spice it Up in public).
- Umm...Hard: In Round 3, "umm," "uh," and the like count as your one word.
- Cuckold: Watch the other team get pleasure at your expense. If you finish a round with a card in your hand, the other team gets to take one guess for a point.

Pillow Talk

If you don't like a rule, change it. If you find a better way to play, go for it. Honestly, we really don't give a sheet.

Hey Sheet Heads. If you thought your mom was easy, wait until you try this game.

The team with the most correctly guessed cards after all 4 rounds wins. Each round has different rules. Every card will be reused in each round, so each card will be used 4 times...got it?

Foreplay: Setting Up

Step 1: Split into teams– ideally 2 teams of 3 to 6 people.

Step 2: The game should consist of about 45 cards total. To start, everyone gets 10 random cards and places a few of their favorites face down in a pile until there are enough.

 HINT: Don't share your cards with anyone, even the other players on your team!

 HINT: The number of olives indicates the dirtiness of the card. The more olives, the dirtier it is.

Step 3: Combine and shuffle all chosen cards from both teams into one pile & put them face down on a table, in a bowl, or in the box. All cards, regardless of who chose them, will be used by both teams.

Step 4: Choose your least favorite people to keep score and time.

Round 1: Sheet Talking

Round 3: The S-Word

Sheet Heads get their team to guess the card without saying any part of the words on the card.

The Sheet Head gets their team to guess the clue by only saying ONE word. This is more challenging than you Sheet Heads think.

 Do's: Speaking – like texting, but with your mouth.

 Do's: Say ONE word, use different inflections, use accents.

 Don'ts: Act, gesture, rhyme, spell, abbreviate, say any part of a word on the card.

 Don'ts: Say another word, mouth other words, gestures, rhyming, use a word or part of a word on the card, suck.

Round 2: Be Charade, Be Very Charade!

Round 4: Sheet Show

The Sheet Head gets their team to guess the clue by acting. This should sound familiar...

The Sheet Head puts a sheet over their head and acts out the clues.

 Do's: Act, gesture, point.

 Do's: Act out the card under the sheet, you dumb sheet.

 Don'ts: Talk, make noises, spell with your hands.

 Don'ts: Talk, come out from under the sheet, make noises.
